Get paid to READ as part of a research study!

What’s the study? We are researchers at the University of Rochester investigating the effects of reading on cognition.

Who can participate? We are looking for healthy, native English speakers ages 18-25 with no history of neurological/psychiatric illness or reading/learning disability.

What’s involved? There are 3 parts to this study:
1. Pre-reading assessment involving self-report questionnaires and cognitive assessments (2.5-3 hours, $10/hour).
2. Reading material we provide over the course of 4 weeks, for 45 minutes/day, 5 days per week ($5/day + bonuses).
3. Post-reading assessment which will be similar to the pre-reading assessment (2-2.5 hours, $10/hour).
